

WELCOME TO HONG KONG

Welcome to the new year!

Electric Wonderland ft. Jewelz & Sparks
Zentral
 4-5/F, California Tower, Central

It's time to kick off the New Year, and what better way is there than to end the night with Jewelz & Sparks? This German duo has produced smash hits and bangers, have collaborations with big hitters such as Hardwell and Afrojack, and have remixed tracks with the likes of The Chainsmokers, Fedde le Grand, Selena Gomez, Marshmello and more.

To get you geared up, listen to Drip by Jewelz & Sparks.

INFO

January 4th

9 PM till late

Tickets available at Eventbrite starting from $305 HKD

Nic Fanciulli in Hong Kong
Yojimbo
 37 Pottinger Street, Central

The Grammy award nominated superstar is here! Arguably one of the most influential artists on the international dance music scene, Nic has been regularly performing to sold out crowds, and headlining at Ultra in the US, Europe and Asia, as well as Tomorrowland, and Time Warp. On top of performing, he's also the creator of the Saved Records, and has completed mixes for Renaissance, Balance and Essential Mixes at BBC Radio 1.

To get you geared up, listen to his album "My Heart".

INFO

January 5th

9 PM till late

Tickets available at Eventbrite starting at $412 HKD

YellowKorner presents: Kaleidoscope
PMQ S101, Staunton Street, Central

Kaleidoscope is a showcase of vivid pops of color, movement and fashion, featuring 3 artists Nicolas Bets, Elena Iv Skaya and Akif Hakan Celebi. This exhibition encourages us to expand our perception, knowledge and experience of color and discover how colors are used to fool, delight and inspire us in the kaleidoscope of life.

INFO

Exhibition will run until January 30

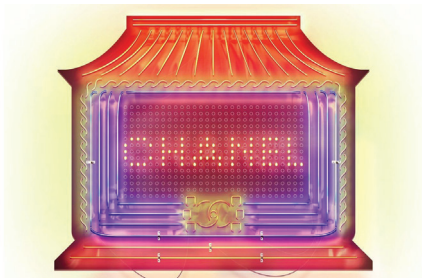

11:00 - 20:00 each day

TALK LIKE A LOCAL
 Know slang from the streets.

m'ai dahn

To close/settle a bill in a restaurant/bar

Excuse me sir, m'ai dahn please-

Mademoiselle Privé

PMQ, Central

Following on from the success of Chanel's Coco Café pop-up, which arrived in Hong Kong in June, the luxury French fashion brand will stage its "Mademoiselle Privé" exhibition in the city from January 13. The exhibition is open to the public, and will offer insights to the origins and sources of Chanel's creations.

The exhibition will also have an app to accompany it which allows viewers to book for admission to the exhibition.

INFO

Date: January 13 - February 10

Free entry and available to public.

For more information, please visit chanel.com

The Woods Annex

64 Staunton Street, Central

The Woods has become a staple along LKF, and now, a hidden tasting room is available for you to dive in and learn more about spirits. The Woods Annex is a spirits library & tasting room seating up to 8 guests at a time, and is available by appointment only. You can either venture in for drinks, or arrange a masterclass with your friends or co-workers.

Available by appointment only via website.

Pici

GF, No. 24-26 Aberdeen St., Soho

Following the success of their first space in Wan Chai, Pici is now open on Aberdeen Street in Central. While the restaurant is still no reservations, you now have a second venue to consider for those pasta cravings. Pop by and check it out!

INFO

Sunday to Wednesday: 12:00 - 23:00

Thursday to Saturday: 12:00 - 23:30

BABYLON

7F, Ho Lee Commercial Building, 38-44 D'Aguilar Street, Central

Shisha bars have always been a staple in Hong Kong, but a good shisha bar sometimes can be hard to come by. It's been a while since a new shisha bar has made waves in Hong Kong, but BABYLON has arrived. For those of you looking for a chill night to just hang out with your buddies and enjoy some good shisha and drinks, BABYLON has you covered.

INFO

The bar is currently still under soft opening, but stay tuned for more details to come.

AT W HONG KONG

KITCHEN

6/F, W Hong Kong, 1 Austin Road, Kowloon

New Years, New Resolutions. We're in a Rosé kind of mood, so every first Sunday of the month we'll be serving unlimited Veuve Clicquot Rosé at our Bubbly Seafood Sunday Brunch!

